Welcome Colin Whitebread

Steps Toward More Dynamic Colour

Colin has been drawing and painting from a young age. He studied Philosophy and Theology at the University of Toronto and taught Elementary and High School for 30 plus years. Along the way, he went to OCAD to further his art journey. He has been married to a very artistic and creative Susan for 45 years. They raised 7 children and are enjoying the wonders of 8 grandchildren. After retirement, Colin spent much of his time teaching art to all ages. He is on the board of Latcham Art Center in Stouffville and has been teaching there as well for some time. He is currently on 4 Studio Tours (Stouffville, Uxbridge, Scugog and Durham West) and has had several exhibitions. His teaching has really helped his own work develop as it challenges him to look at art-making from many different perspectives. Colour, texture, surface experimentation are key elements of his style. His subject matter is varied as he considers form and process more important than subject matter.

Member Artwork of the Month

William 'Kelly' Antonichuk

William "Kelly" Antonichuk is passionate about his Soapstone Carvings and the expressions he sees within each stone. He is quick to say that each piece "Speaks to me" or "I see this." Each carving uniquely captures this artistically creative, interactive medium, shared spiritual process. Kelly began carving under the influence of Floyd Kuptana, a prominent Canadian Inuit artist. Together they shared the backyard of a friend, Bob Salter, in September 2017.

From their meetings, Kelly went on to complete many Series of Carving Collections. He uses a variety of hand files, saws, drill bits, sandpaper, finishing materials, and he embeds gems, tusks, marbles, bear claws, porcupine quills and teeth from all over the world into his carvings. The carving medium he prefers is Brazilian Soapstone.

Kelly was honoured to have one of his pieces "My Fan Club" accepted into The 50th Annual Juried Art Exhibition at The Robert McLaughlin Gallery. By this time his carvings had already become highly praised by Michael Skerritt, Director of the Bay of Spirits Gallery in Toronto, as well as by many local artisans and art critics. In April 2019, at the 51st Annual Juried Art Exhibition at The Robert McLaughlin Gallery, Kelly received a Certificate of Recognition for "My Fan Club II" in the SCULPTURE / THREE DIMENSIONAL Category. Kelly's work will be on display at the Fall Camp Samac Show.

Please visit Kelly's work at Dan's facebook page (http://www.facebook.com/dan.hanewich/media_set?set=a.10156064345111196&type=3) or email him at: thenutritioncoach@outlook.com

Signs! Signs! Signs!

Shirley is still looking for missing signs. Please have a look in your garage, basement or sheds and return the signs as soon as possible. Lack of signage could negatively impact the success of our fall show. At $10 per sign the replacement value is significant for the number of signs missing. If you find some, please email Shirley Bankey (sbankey@hotmail.com) and she will make arrangements to have them picked up.

"Be grateful for art...it allows us to express our feelings when there are no words."

This postcard will be coming out in your Email from the OAA. Please forward and share with family and friends. The Spring and Fall shows are our main fundraising activities so we rely heavily on members to help encourage sales.
